Teachers & Writers magazine, the winner of ten Educational Press Awards for Excellence, covers contemporary issues and innovations in creative writing education, and engages writers, educators, and students in a conversation on the nature of creativity and the imagination.

RECENT ISSUES have included interviews with Edward Hirsch, Kimiko Hahn, Billy Collins, Victor Hernández Cruz, and Walter Dean Myers; articles about teaching the ode, about poets James Schuyler and Federico García Lorca, and how-to pieces on welcoming music and art into the poetry classroom.

Occasional special issues feature an in-depth look at subjects of particular interest to our readers, including, most recently, the teaching of creative writing in non-school settings such as hospitals, prisons, and juvenile detention wards.

Teachers & Writers magazine is published quarterly and is available by subscription or with a T&W membership.

Photographic artist R. D. Wilson (front and back cover) is a retired attorney whose interest in creating unique images has been evolving over some fifty years through experimentation with diverse and unorthodox photographic techniques. Wilson works principally in film, which more readily lends itself to the use of some of these techniques. He has had a one-man show at the Crowell Gallery in Newfane, Vermont, and has participated in a number of group shows. Wilson lives with his wife in Brooklyn. Additional work may be seen at www.rdwilsonimages.com; the artist may be contacted at mybonafour@yahoo.com.
